

Tram Grade Separations Project

Morphett Road Level Crossing

Initial site investigation activities

The Australian and South Australian governments recently committed funding towards a planning study to investigate the removal of the level crossing where the Glenelg tram line crosses Morphett Road, Morphettville. These works form part of the Tram Grade Separations Project.

We look forward to engaging further with the community in the coming months about this project. This will be an opportunity to share further information about the key insights learnt through the planning work undertaken so far, as well as seek important feedback to help inform the detailed design process.

Upcoming site investigation activities

Service locating works will be undertaken on Monday, 24 and Tuesday, 25 October 2022, weather permitting. This involves a small team visiting various sites on local roads along the tram line to identify the location of any underground pipes and wires. This work may involve some brief traffic restrictions such as a lowered speed limit or being guided through the small worksite by traffic controllers. The works will take approximately 2 days however, the works will only be undertaken at each location for approximately one hour.

Ground investigation works will be undertaken for approximately five weeks commencing from Monday, 31 October 2022, weather permitting. These works are undertaken to develop a further understanding of the underlying soil and groundwater conditions to inform the early planning and design phase. These works will involve a mobile drilling rig undertaking soil sampling at various locations. We will provide advance notice for any temporary road closures required for these works, see the works area map over leaf.

The Department is committed to working with the community. We encourage you to register your details with the project team to receive further project information as it becomes available.
